NHS CANCER SERVICES: Are we meeting the mark?

The Cancer Networks in Scotland are pleased to announce their 2008 conference.

The conference will feature a mix of speakers, poster presentations and plenary sessions. A range of topics will be discussed including evidence based practice, innovation in cancer education and service delivery.

The aims of the conference include:

- Setting the scene: reality for the future NHS
- Discussion: what this will mean for cancer services
- Encourage debate and challenging our current ways of thinking
- Reflection/consideration of our own contributions
