

Presentations

Mark Dyke (Debbie Wright)

- Good stand in
- Slides presented
- Speaker not present. Presentation only
- Useful feedback but speaker not present
- Useful perspective to start the day
- Lack of presenter meant the information provided was limited. However slides were informative and stand in did a good job

Well done Mark

Chris Jarvis

- Very detailed lots of facts and figures. Supported previous presentation with further information and advice
- Very informative
- Made me think about AHP within my area
- Very insightful
- From reviews it highlighted the lack of funding specific for neonatal AHP's
- Great overview around AHP recommendations
- Very good description of process around assessing AHP position
- Nice summary of the variety of services we have within neonatal care but also being able to see the shortfalls
- Very interesting

Claire Jackson and Karen King

- Really interesting but a little long. Helpful to hear about collaborative working
- Excellent insight into surgical care
- Excellent use of diagrams/ x-rays and photo's
- Some abbreviations used that I did not know there meaning
- Very interesting presentation. Good insight into problems that can incur in particular with stoma especially with regards to growth
- Very interesting case study

Sara Clarke, Emma Foulerton and Katy Parnell

- Would be interested to maybe have network leads that could advise local units as EOE too big a network to have replicated service
- Good delivery
- Very informative and interesting to hear "Model across Network" framework and their experiences. I look forward to looking at their resources/website
- Excellent presentation
- Dynamic presentation which flowed well between speakers. Very useful information
- Good presentation with clear indication of service provided and benefits etc. Useful survey too.
- Good presentation and looks a fabulous service, much to learn from the network led service

Nigel Gooding

- Lots to take away and present to my pharmacist
- Very interesting presentation from Nigel. Very informative
- Good presentation demonstrating why standardising infusion and prep of neonatal drugs is important especially for ANTS
- Excellent
- Very good ideas. Excellent work which needs to be reproduced in other areas
- Still a lot of differences between units despite us being part of the same network. Would be good to explain why

Content

Claudia Cetcuti-Gando and Rachel Stamp

- Shame about the video clips
- Interesting case presentation
- Excellent example of a good therapy service and links between acute and community services
- Presentation was full of information and lots to take away. When videos were played they added to the explanations and descriptions given in the presentation
- Excellent case study

Sanhita Chakrabarti

- Very good presentation
- Informative
- A good presentation. Highlighted how maternity and neonatal services should work collaboratively
- Really enjoyed this presentation. Would've liked longer on this
- Presentation was of a high standard
- Good

Nicola Anderton

- Very interesting
- Very full slide containing a large amount of information. Delicate subject well delivered presentation
- Didn't realise psychologists trained for seven years. I was well informed about what psychologists can offer services
- Highlighted issues that parents experience that will require intervention to ensure that there is psychological support to aid them in the care of their baby
- Advice regarding resources helpful

Libby Ffrench-Mullen

- Good content-a little long but informative
- Excellent presentation. Very informative, interesting and extremely appropriate advice/info for audience, many of which might not have SALT input into their units
- Beautifully clear presentation. Enthusiasm came across well
- Good content an delivery
- Too much emphasis on bottle feeding
- Very interesting to find out about importance of SALT provision
- Very interesting. Enjoyed the practical feeding information

Linda Hunn (Lis Berrington)

- Although the video didn't work Linda read the presentation with great compassion and composure
- Powerful account that made me consider how I speak to and interact with families
- Shame video didn't work
- What a shame about the video but well done Linda and thank you Lis
- Very emotional and beautifully highlights the importance of good psychological care
- I have heard Eddie's story before, however it never lessens its impact. If nothing else can drive us to improve this should

Louise Allen

- Very interesting topic-lots of new info
- Great idea
- Very interesting presentation
- Very good presentation with some interesting points
- Great talk
- Informative, thought provoking. Interested to know what commissioners think!
- Would've been good to have the stages of ROP explained
- Very interesting and engaging

Overall Feedback Comments

- * Very enjoyable and informative day
- * Best venue I been to for: room, food, toilets and parking. Thank you
- * Lots of problems with playing videos
- * Very interesting and informative conference. Well organised and good facilities. Interesting talks and varied topic
- * A few technical difficulties
- * Programme not available beforehand. A few technical problems. Nice lunch and snacks
- * A very enjoyable day that has provided me with lots of ideas to take back to my unit manager. This has increased my ability to network and ask for advice from outside my region. Shame that IT let you down but well done to everyone who carried on and worked around it.

- * Need to review use of milk companies as sponsors or influence baby friendly/UNICEF in their stand
- * Too many people talking about 'journeys'. Limited speaker input from outside the East of England
- * A very interesting and useful day
- * Lovely conference
- * Overall the conference was an eye-opener for me. First time attending and recently joined perinatal mental health team. Most of the presentation were neonatal
- * Temperature control-could have been a little warmer
- * There was not adequate IT backup. Food was excellent. Venue facilities excellent

- * The room was quite cold
- * Range of speakers excellent. Range of Reps very good and relevant. I enjoyed the conference with the exception of the main room which was very cold. IT issues were unfortunate
- * Very informative day and highlighted some valuable points that I will take back to my unit
- * Excellent day. Thank you
- * No information or agenda provided prior to today. Unaware that focus is on neonatal which is not my line of work. Nevertheless the speakers were very engaging and I learned a lot. Thank you

- * Short times to be able to get lunch, eat it and look at the reps
- * I work in Mental Health and my manager asked me to attend the course. However I did not have the agenda prior to the conference. The focus of the conference was neonatal care which is not my line of work but the conference was very interesting. I have taken in some valuable information which I will feedback to my team. Thank you
- * Thank you for an informative day. Very interesting topics and good range of sponsor exhibition stands.

- * I found the whole day very interesting and for me a lot of new learning! I will take Eddie's mummy and daddy's story with me. Very moving
- * Liked the use of case studies. It provided thought/reflection on AHP in my unit. Good for networking. Very enjoyable day
- * Excellent venue, food and facilities. Thank you to the organisers and the speakers. This event raised awareness of the continuing challenges which are present in the drive to progress and expand AHP service provision. The innovative work within the networks to address this issue supports teams present today to continue to aim high and raise the issues at Trust Forums. Poster presentations-excellent. Case presentations-very good
- * Very long journey but really nice venue and worth the travel
- * The room was rather cold to sit still in
- * Excellent conference. Plenty of food for thought. Shame about the IT issues but these were outside of the organisers control
