What will the Healthcare Science workforce look like in 2025?

What are the key technological advances in the short to medium term (less than 10 years) and in the longer term (10 to 20 years) impacting on overall clinical care and service delivery?

What political, social and financial changes are likely to be the most important for healthcare?

What likely population and care pathway demands will have the most significant implications for the healthcare science workforce?

Where might new disciplines or professions arise? Which groups would be likely to be involved in their evolution?

How could healthcare scientists use their skills more broadly with a focus on research, innovation and adoption?

What do you think the shape of the healthcare science workforce will look like in 10 to 20 years time?