

Staffordshire, Shropshire & Black Country Newborn and Maternity Network

Type of Neonatal Unit

NICU - Neonatal Intensive Care Unit

LNU - Local Neonatal Unit

This is a map of the local network of services for newborn babies who are unwell. There are different types of care delivered at each hospital in the network. For this reason it may be necessary to transfer you or your baby to another hospital so that your baby can get the most appropriate care needed. Sometimes this is for intensive or specialist facilities not available at your hospital. Sometimes it is because all the cots in your own hospital are occupied.

Transfer of you or your baby only happens when it is absolutely necessary. If you or your baby do need to transfer to another hospital then the clinicians caring for you will explain the reasons why.

We understand that being transferred to another hospital can be stressful. An app has been developed to give you information about the hospital that you are being transferred to and the neonatal services in the network. Please feel free to download the app. PT1

FREE Parent Information app: Available for both iPhone and Android Search “ssbcnmn” on the app store

Further Information on Staffordshire, Shropshire & Black Country Newborn and Maternity Network:

Web: <https://www.networks.nhs.uk/nhs-networks/staffordshire-shropshire-and-black-country-newborn/parents>