New RCPCH eLearning module entitled, Cleft Palate: Examination in the Newborn

The RCPCH is proud to announce the launch of a brand new, eLearning module entitled Cleft Palate: Examination in the Newborn. The aim of the course is to reduce unnecessary morbidity from delays in detection and ensure that the best practice guide for assessment of the palate in the newborn is followed consistently.

Target audience: neonatologists, paediatricians, nurses, midwives, GPs, health care assistants and any other health care professional to identify cleft palate in neonates, and to improve and standardise routine postnatal examination of the palate.

To access the course:

1. Go to the RCPCH Compass site: http://rcpch.learningpool.com
2. RCPCH members log-in through the members route.
3. Non-members without accounts must create one here: Create New Account
4. Once you log-in, click on the eLearning button and select: Cleft Palate: Examination in the Newborn
5. Then click on the ‘enrol me’ button at the bottom of the page.
6. If you experience any issues call 0207 092 6000 and ask for the education & professional development team.